

Dr. JP to unveil Simhadri's statue at Avanigadda on Sep 13th

Written by

Monday, 12 September 2011 10:38 - Last Updated Monday, 12 September 2011 10:54

Lok Satta Party President Dr. Jayaprakash Narayan will be unveiling a statue of the late Simhadri Satyanarayana at Avanigadda in Krishna district tomorrow (Tuesday, Sep. 13).

Satyanarayana had served as a Member of the State Assembly for three terms and as Minister for Endowments and Commercial Taxes.

The Lok Satta Party had honored Satyanarayana, who stood for clean and corruption-free politics, on World Anti Corruption Day on December 9, 2007.

During his day-long visit to Krishna district, Dr. JP will be interacting with students of S. V. H. Engineering College in Machilipatnam, and Montessori Women's College and Rotary youth in Vijayawada on tackling corruption.